PRINCETON, May 30.—Princeton is afame with bonfires to-hight and the freshmen are parading the streets singing and giving the '98 yell by way of celebratting their victory over Harvard here this atternoon.
Harvard played rather loosely in the field, but excelled at the bar, making eight hits to Princeton's sixcelled at the bar, making eight hits to Princeton's sixat critical moments, however, the Harvard youngsterwere unable to hit Easten's curves. In the eighth and ninth innings, by combinations of bases on balls and errors by Reiter and Farsons, the crimson scored six runs. Princeton won the game in the fifth and sixth innings. The score.

ball over the fence the people within a mile's radius had reason to believe that a Wild West show was fighting a pitched battle with a cycione.

Every error that was made by Cleveland added to the score of the New Yorks. After the New Yorks got ahead the Clevelands fought with persistent doggedness for the game, but then it was that bad fielding plays crept in and helped the visitors to runs. It is probable that Meekin will not get a harder lacing this year than he got to-day. In the first inning the entire Cleveland team went to bat, and out of the nine men six hit the ball for clean line hits. But it did not dismay the New Yorks. In the first, with one out, Tiernan smashed a hot hit over McKean's head, and Davis cracked a liner the same way. It passed between Burkett's feet, and Tiernan scored, Davis going to second.

Burkett lined the ball over Meekin's head and Mokean smashed it to right for a base. Tiernan threw the ball into the stand and Burkett scored, McKean going to third. O'Connor lined a double to right field and McKean came home. Tebesau died at first. Blake singled to centre and O'Connor scored. Greminger drove a single to centre, putting Blake on third. McAleer's fly to Van Haltren gave Blake a chance to score. McGarr singled to right, but Cuppy fied to Murphy. In the fourth Van Haltren received a base on balls and Stafford died at first. Wilson gave McAleer an easy fly, and to the astonishment of the crowd he dropped it. Meekin singled to left field, sending Van Haltren home, but Wilson foolishly tried to get to third on the hit and was retired. Murphy filed to Burkett. Cuppy began for Cleveland with a terrific double to left, and accrete don Burkett's hard smash to left centre for two bases. Van Haltren dropped McKean's fly after he had it in his hands. O'Connor hit to Murphy, who caught Burkett at the plate by a sharp throw. AT SYRACUSE. Totals 13 15 97 11 2 Totals

In the fifth, with one out, Tiernan hit the ball with fremendous force to centre field. McAleer made a great elfort to get it, and feil headlong reaching for it. By the time he got to his feet and threw the ball to McGarr, Tiernan was turning third. He beat McGarr, Tiernan was foot. Davis was easy, and Burkett made a wonderful catch of Doyle's low fly. In the sixth Van Haitren began with a bunt, beautifully done. Stafford filed out to Blake, and Wilson poked a single into right field. Meekin came to the bat with blood in his eye, and fell upon one of Cuppy's straight swift ones with might and main. The ball went into the air and sailed like a meteor over the centrefield fence for a home run. Murphy got a base on balls. Hannon died at first, Murphy going to second. Then McKean fumbled a hard chance that Tiernan gave him, Mike going to second on a passed ball, and scoring with Murphy on Davis's hard hit to centre.

In Cleveland's half McKean began with a hase hit, went to second on a passed ball, to third on Tebeau's out at first, and scored on a hot drive by Blake that Meekin couldn't handle. In this seventh Doyle got a lucky hit to left, the ball hitting a stone. He stole second, and went to third on Van Haitren's out. Stafford hit to Mokean, who founded the ball, and Doyle scored. Wilson planted a single to right field, and Stafford went to third. Meekin's long fly to McAleer gave Stafford an opportunity to run home.

Murphy got a base on balls. O'Cennor's wild home.

Murphy got a base on balls. O'Cennor's wild throw to first gave Wilson third and Murphy second. Bannon hit to Greminger and Wilson was run out of line. In Cleveland's half, with two out, Meekin gave Cuppy a base on balls, and Burkett hit to left for a base. McKan sent both home with a hard drive over Murphy's head for two bases.

In the eighth McGarr muffed Tiernan's fly. Then two men were retired. Tiernan stole second, and Van Haltren hit to Tebesu. It was a hot one, but McGarr got the ball as it carromed away and threw to Cuppy, who muffed it. In the mean time Tiernan scored. That was the last run in the game. The score:

LOUISVILLE, May 25.—For ten innings the tail enders struggled for supremacy at League Park this afternoon. It was a contest in which errors were as plentiful as office seekers after an election, and the Kentuckians contributed more than their searca. Mollermott pitched good ball, but his support was disheartening and cost the Colonels the game. We sail let the visitors get a couple of runs before he was supplianted by Zahner in the seventh. Rain fell most of the morning, but the sandy soil prevented the ground from being muddy. The weather, however, continued threatening throughout the game and at one time a heavy sprinkle fell, but play continued. Anderson was slightly hurt slining to second, and Grim went to left. Corcoran's work at short was one of the chief features, for he accepted an even dozen chances out of a nossible thirteen. Young Collins made a sensational play in the ninth by capturing Corcoran's hard drive and getting it to first in time to retire Grim, who considered it so safe that he had almost reached third. That Jasper-Union Ball Game, TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN-SIT: I WAS an interested spectator at yesterday's game between the Jaspers and Unions at Schenectady. tween the Jaspers and Unions at Schenectady. After having played for nine innings against the Union College tram, and a most unfair and partial umpire, the Jaspers did leave the field. To-day's issue of The Sirs says that they left the field after a plainly fair decision. The truth of the matter is that the Jaspers were treated unfairly and dishonestly from start to finish. An umpire wofully ignorant of baseball essayed to judge the game, and the unfair decisions coming one upon the other against the Jaspers completely disgusted impartial observers. Despite the umpire and prejudiced throng the Jaspers played a manily, honest, and plucky game, and succeeded in tying the score in the ninth.

Then when victory was within their grasp the umpire canned his connects of access with a ing the score in the ninth.

Then when victory was within their grasp the umpire capned his comedy of errors with a decision so manifestly unjust, so injurious to the Jaspers, that human nature could no longer endure it, and they left the field. They left the field under great provocation and with entire justification. neld under great provocation and with entire justification.

The Jaspers are superior to the Unions in every sense. This was the unanimous verdict of all honest onlookers. On a neutral ground and with a fair and intelligent umpire the Jaspers can and will beat them so hadly that the Unions will incontinently change their name. I am an old Jasper, and I am up this way to defend them.

A meeting of Capitains will be held at 22 members of a crew on this date will report to the Ficet Capitain before 12 o'clock for assignment.

The new spars which Piepgras of City Island is making for the cup defender, now building at Bristol, are the largest ever made for a sailing yacht. Her main boom, which is hollow, meas-ures 105 feet and her gaff 64 feet. These are area 105 teet and her gaff 64 feet. These are about ready for delivery, but as yet work has not been commenced on the Defender's mast. In addition to the Defender's spars (while it is not generally known), Piepgrus is making another set of spars for the Vigilant, which in-cludes a 101-foot boom and a 60-foot gaff. Unlike the Denfender's spars, in which some allowance has been made for trimming, the Vigilant's sticks are exact and ready for fitting.

Health, profit, and comfort will be the objects kept in view rather than economy or "making records" on wheels. Sunday will be regarded as a day of rest. The route will be, starting records" on wheels. Sunday will be regarded as a day of change as occasion may arise: Windsor, Oxford, Warwick, Stratford-on-Avon, Chester, Giascow, Scottish Lakes, Trosaces, Edinburgh Melrose, and the "Cathedral route," to Cambridge, Harwick, Antwerp, Brussels, Paris, Versailies, Fontainbieau, Dijton Pontailler, Lac de Joux, Fernex, Geneva, Smplon Parsto Lake Vacagiore, Milan, Verona, Venice, Leco, Italiah Lakes, St. Gothard Railway to Swiss mouth of the great tunnel, then a coast of many miles to Lake Lucerne and along the superb Axenstrase to Lucerne, Zug, Zurich, Sechathansen, Fails of Rhine, and through the Black Forest, Strasburg, Heidelberg, Frankfort, Mainz, down the Rhine along the water's edge by a glorious road descending all the way to Cologne, rail to Hanover and Bremen, and thence home by Lloyd steamers.

Refore sailling the professor will give his

Hanover and Bremen, and thence home by Lioyd steamers.

Refore sailing the professor will give his party a series of private stereopticon lectures, showing the members precisely what they will see and explaining in detail the points relating to each view. In this way many castles and cathedrals will be recognized as old friends when seen in actual existence. Thus interest and profit will be added to the vacation tour.
